

Defeat Of Gas, Oil Depletion Bill Foreseen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senior Republican senator says he is confident efforts to retain the 27½ per cent oil and gas depletion allowance will fail in a tax reform-minded Senate.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., speaking in advance of today's scheduled vote, predicted the Senate would approve either the 23 per cent figure favored by a Senate committee or the 20 per cent benefit contained in the House-passed tax reform bill under debate.

"This is the symbol of tax reform," said Williams, senior GOP member of the Senate Finance Committee. "If we don't cut the allowance, the country will not think we are serious about reform."

Failure to make some cut probably would encourage special interests to try to eliminate or weaken other major provisions in the tax reform bill, Williams said.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., author of the amendment to retain 27½ per cent, said the allowance has served the nation well over four decades and should not be disturbed.

It has assured the nation a steady oil and gas supply by providing an incentive needed for exploration and development, he says.

Other senators from oil-producing states took a similar view.

The depletion allowance works this way: A producer can deduct 27½ per cent of gross income before figuring taxes so long as this does not exceed 50 per cent of net income or profits.

The 50 per cent limitation sometimes means the taxpayer cannot deduct 27½ per cent of his gross.

Nixon's Relations With Own Party 'Under Siege'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's relations with congressional Republicans, already damaged in the Senate by the Haynsworth Supreme Court nomination, are under further strain in two coming House votes.

Divided On Issues

The administration's position on antipoverty and voting rights legislation has sharply divided House Republicans and put the GOP leadership in a difficult position in trying to line up votes.

So split are Republicans on the antipoverty bill, the leadership had been unable to lay down a party position to guide the members when it comes up for a vote later this week.

Nixon's request for a straight two-year extension of the existing Economic Opportunity Act has only minimal support among Republicans and little or no chance of being approved.

Widespread Distress

On voting rights, due for action next week, the President's decision to scrap the present law that affects only Deep South states in favor of one having nationwide application has caused widespread distress among Northern Republicans.

The two votes come at a bad time for Nixon who was handed a bitter defeat several days ago in his effort to name Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

Bungling Noted

Although the Haynsworth and voting rights issues underscore long standing ideological differences within the Republican party, Nixon's problems on antipoverty are a direct result of bungling in White House relations with Congress.

Ever since former President Lyndon B. Johnson began his War on Poverty in 1965, antipoverty programs have been under heavy attack by Republicans, including Nixon in his presidential campaign last year.

But he stunned the party by asking that the existing antipoverty law be continued through June 30, 1971, without any changes.

Seeking To Avert Railroad Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials have expressed mild optimism about heading off a strike that threatens to shut down the nation's rail service at midweek.

Nevertheless, Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz Sunday ordered the railroads and four shopcraft unions to start around-the-clock talks starting today in an effort to settle a contract dispute before the Wednesday strike deadline.

Assistant Labor Secretary W. J. Usery Jr. said "I am optimistic that settlement can be reached. Both parties have been cooperating. Proposals have been exchanged. Some progress has been made. I believe both earnestly desire to reach an agreement."

But, in case desire falls short of accomplishment, Shultz warned, "if a voluntary agreement is not reached by the deadline other actions will have to be considered by the administration."

The unions will be free to strike at 12:01 a.m. EST Wednesday at the expiration of a 60-day no strike injunction issued by President Nixon under the Railway Labor Act.

GI Calls My Lai Killings 'Murder'

By The Associated Press

Sgt. Michael Bernhardt, who was at My Lai, says "it was point-blank murder." He said he told officers: "The hell with this, I'm not doing it."

An Army lieutenant has been charged with the premeditated murder of 109 South Vietnamese men, women and children during an Army operation in the hamlet of My Lai in March 1968.

Bernhardt and some veterans recall their experiences at My Lai in the current issue of Life magazine.

Resistance Expected

Sgt. Charles West, a squad leader at My Lai, said a briefing before the operation "put fear into a lot of our hearts. We thought we'd run into heavy resistance."

Capt. Ernest L. Medina, company commander at My Lai, "didn't give us an order to go in and kill women or children," West said. "Nobody told us about handling civilians, because at the time I don't think any of us were aware of the fact that we'd run into civilians."

Medina, West continued, "was telling us here was the enemy, the enemy that had been killing our partners. This was going to be our first real live battle, and we made up our minds we were going to go in and with whatever means possible wipe them out."

Medina Retains Lawyer

Meanwhile, attorney F. Lee Bailey said he had been retained by Medina, who is stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga. He has not been charged in the case. Lt. William L. Calley Jr., leader of the first platoon in Medina's company, awaits court-martial for the alleged murder of 109 civilians.

A military judge has ordered potential witnesses in the case to withhold public statements until the court martial. Bailey, reached by telephone in Columbus, Ohio, said he would ask President Nixon to remove the restriction so Medina could offer a televised version of his recollection of the incident.

The Senate and House Armed Services Committees have ordered investigations, as has the Army. The White House has expressed concern over the case.

Bernhardt, currently stationed at Ft. Dix, N.J., said: "The people who ordered it probably didn't think it would look so bad... It was point-blank murder. Only a few of us refused. I just told them the hell with this, I'm not doing it. I didn't think this was a lawful order."

Platoon Point Man

Spec. 5 John Kinch, still on duty in Vietnam, said he had been point man for the heavy weapons platoon.

"Captain Medina was right in front of us," Kinch said. "Col. Barker, the task force commander, was overhead in his helicopter. He came through on the radio saying he had got word from the medevac (medical evacuation) chopper there were bodies lying everywhere and what was going on. I heard Capt. Medina tell him: 'I don't know what they are doing. The first platoon's in the lead. I am trying to stop it.'"

"Just after that," Kinch continued, "he called the first platoon and said, 'That's enough shooting for today.' Colonel Barker called down for a body count and Medina got back on the horn and said: 'I have a body count of 310.'"

Former Army photographer Sgt. Ron Haeberle and Spec. 5 Jay Roberts, assigned to write about the incident for the brigade newspaper, recounted these episodes at My Lai:

"A group of soldiers tried to disrobe a teen-age girl. When her mother tried to intervene, both were placed in a group of other women and shot."

"A black GI shot himself in the foot with a pistol to get evacuated after saying he couldn't stomach it."

"Soldiers stood around shooting and stabbing cows and pigs. One chased a duck down a trail, waving a knife."

Home Towns Not Listed

Life did not give home towns for the GIs interviewed or list where those still in the service were stationed.

Life also printed eight color photographs by Haeberle, now a Cleveland businessman, which were printed in the Cleveland Plain Dealer last week. NBC News showed the pictures on its 11 p.m. report.

Helsinki Site Of Maneuvering

HELSINKI (AP) — Diplomatic maneuvering is going on behind the scenes in Helsinki over where the United States and the Soviet Union should hold the second round of negotiations to check the nuclear arms race.

Officially there is no decision yet that there will be such a round. The U.S.-Soviet parley here now going into its third week is billed as a "preliminary" sounding out by the two big powers to determine whether and how they should go into the hard-bargaining phase.

But the secret meetings have shown sufficient promise that round two is now considered a virtual certainty. And this has spurred backstage maneuvering over the next site.

The Finns want the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks-of SALT—to stay on in their capital. It would keep their small country on foreign front pages for months and also give global publicity to their neutrality policy of good relations with both the Western allies and the Soviet bloc.

Word has seeped out that the Russians would like to stay in Helsinki and the Americans would prefer to move elsewhere.

Youth, 14, Has Proof There's Flying Saucer

SAGINAW (AP) — Don't tell 14-year-old Mark Ashworth there's no such thing as a flying saucer.

One hit him and broke his leg.

Mark was walking on the suburban Bridgeport Country Club's golf course Friday when a snowmobile towing a snow-riding saucer swung around in a wide arc as the snowmobile turned.

The snap-the-whip saucer, ridden by Mark's 12-year-old sister, Cathy, struck him on the leg and he went to a hospital. Both are children of Mr. and Mrs. Max B. Ashworth of Saginaw.

State Coed's Future Shattered By Death

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Had she lived, 22-year-old Betsy Ruth Aardsma may have become a dedicated doctor's wife, an artist, a professor of English literature, a poet, or a teacher on an Indian reservation.

Friends said she was contemplating all these things before she was stabbed to death in the main library at Pennsylvania State University.

A graduate student in English, the attractive blue-eyed brunette's body was found slumped beside book shelves on the library's second level. It was the day after Thanksgiving and many of the school's 26,000 students were away for the holiday.

A girl described by a friend as "fun-loving, but serious about her work," Betsy had stayed behind to study.

State police reported Sunday

they didn't have a suspect in the case.

After being graduated from University of Michigan in June, Betsy applied to the Peace Corps and was accepted. Up until her death, she still had the idea in mind, but she chose to be near her boyfriend, a student at Penn State's Hershey Medical Center in Hershey, Pa.

"There was no official engagement," a friend said. "But it seemed pretty serious."

After her freshman year at Hope College in Holland, Mich., her hometown, Betsy worked on an Indian reservation in New Mexico.

"She was extremely interested in minority groups. She loved black literature. Especially James Baldwin. She was up for an assistant professorship in English literature," the friend said.

Betsy's teachers at Penn State described her as extremely well-adjusted. One professor said she "had the deep sensitivity of an artist for others feelings—and a keen sense of observation in addition to her natural abilities."

All her teachers said she took her work seriously.

Betsy had been at Penn State only eight weeks when she was stabbed.

Centre County Coroner Robert Neff said she died of a single stab wound of the pulmonary artery inflicted by an unknown object. Police said no weapon has been found.

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY—Partly cloudy today with highs in the upper 30s. Increasing cloudiness tonight with chance of snow or rain later tonight and Tuesday, changing to light snow or snow flurries by Tuesday evening. Low tonight-near 30, high Tuesday around 40. Sun sets today at 5:06 p. m., and rises Tuesday at 8:10 a. m.

Three senators—Stephen Young, D-Ohio, John J. Williams, R-Del., and Spessard L. Holland, D-Fla.—announced retirement for reasons of age or health; the fourth, Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., acted on motives less evident, announcing he intends to remain politically active but not saying how.

A total of 34 Senate terms—those of nine Republicans and 25 Democrats—expire in 1971. The other incumbents have given no hint they might retire voluntarily.

Humphrey, former vice president and unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate last year, has not yet announced his political intentions. But he has a hefty lead in the only Minnesota poll published so far, could get the Senate nomination simply by asking and appears certain to run.

Moon Samples May Solve Mysteries

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Scientists begin tests today on rocks and other moon samples brought back by the Apollo 12 astronauts. They hope the material will unlock more of the moon's mysteries.

The astronauts collected two boxes of rocks, dust and samples gathered by boring into the lunar surface.

Crewmen Relax

The Apollo 12 crewmen—Charles Conrad Jr., Alan L. Bean and Richard F. Gordon Jr.—have nothing scheduled today.

A formal debriefing on their mission is to start Tuesday.

All three astronauts had visits from their families Sunday as they relaxed in the quarantine quarters at the Lunar Receiving Laboratory. Conrad also spent some time putting together a radio kit, and Gordon and Bean watched football on television.

Quarantine of the astronauts is to end Dec. 10, if they develop no illnesses that can be traced to a moon microbe.

Rocks Different

Scientists ready to put the moon material through further tests in an adjoining part of the laboratory already have noted major differences between the Apollo 12 samples and those returned in July from the first moon-landing expedition, Apollo 11.

Dr. Jeff Warner, a geologist for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said the rocks from Apollo 12 have almost no breccias, or conglomerates fused from a variety of minerals. Almost half of the Apollo 11 rocks were breccias.

Mystery Remains

This, he said, is the biggest mystery of Apollo 12 and indicates the moon may be more complex than previously thought.

Both of the moon landings were made in maria areas, the wide, flat plains of the moon. Yet, the rocks are different.

"From all our pre-guesses," he said, the two rock samplings "should have been pretty close to the same."

Space agency geologists also said the Apollo 12 rocks have less titanium than the Apollo 11 rocks, but more feldspar.

Rocks from both missions, however, apparently are products of molten material, they said.

The Apollo 12 mission ended Nov. 24.

Senate Reluctant To Sweep Own Steps

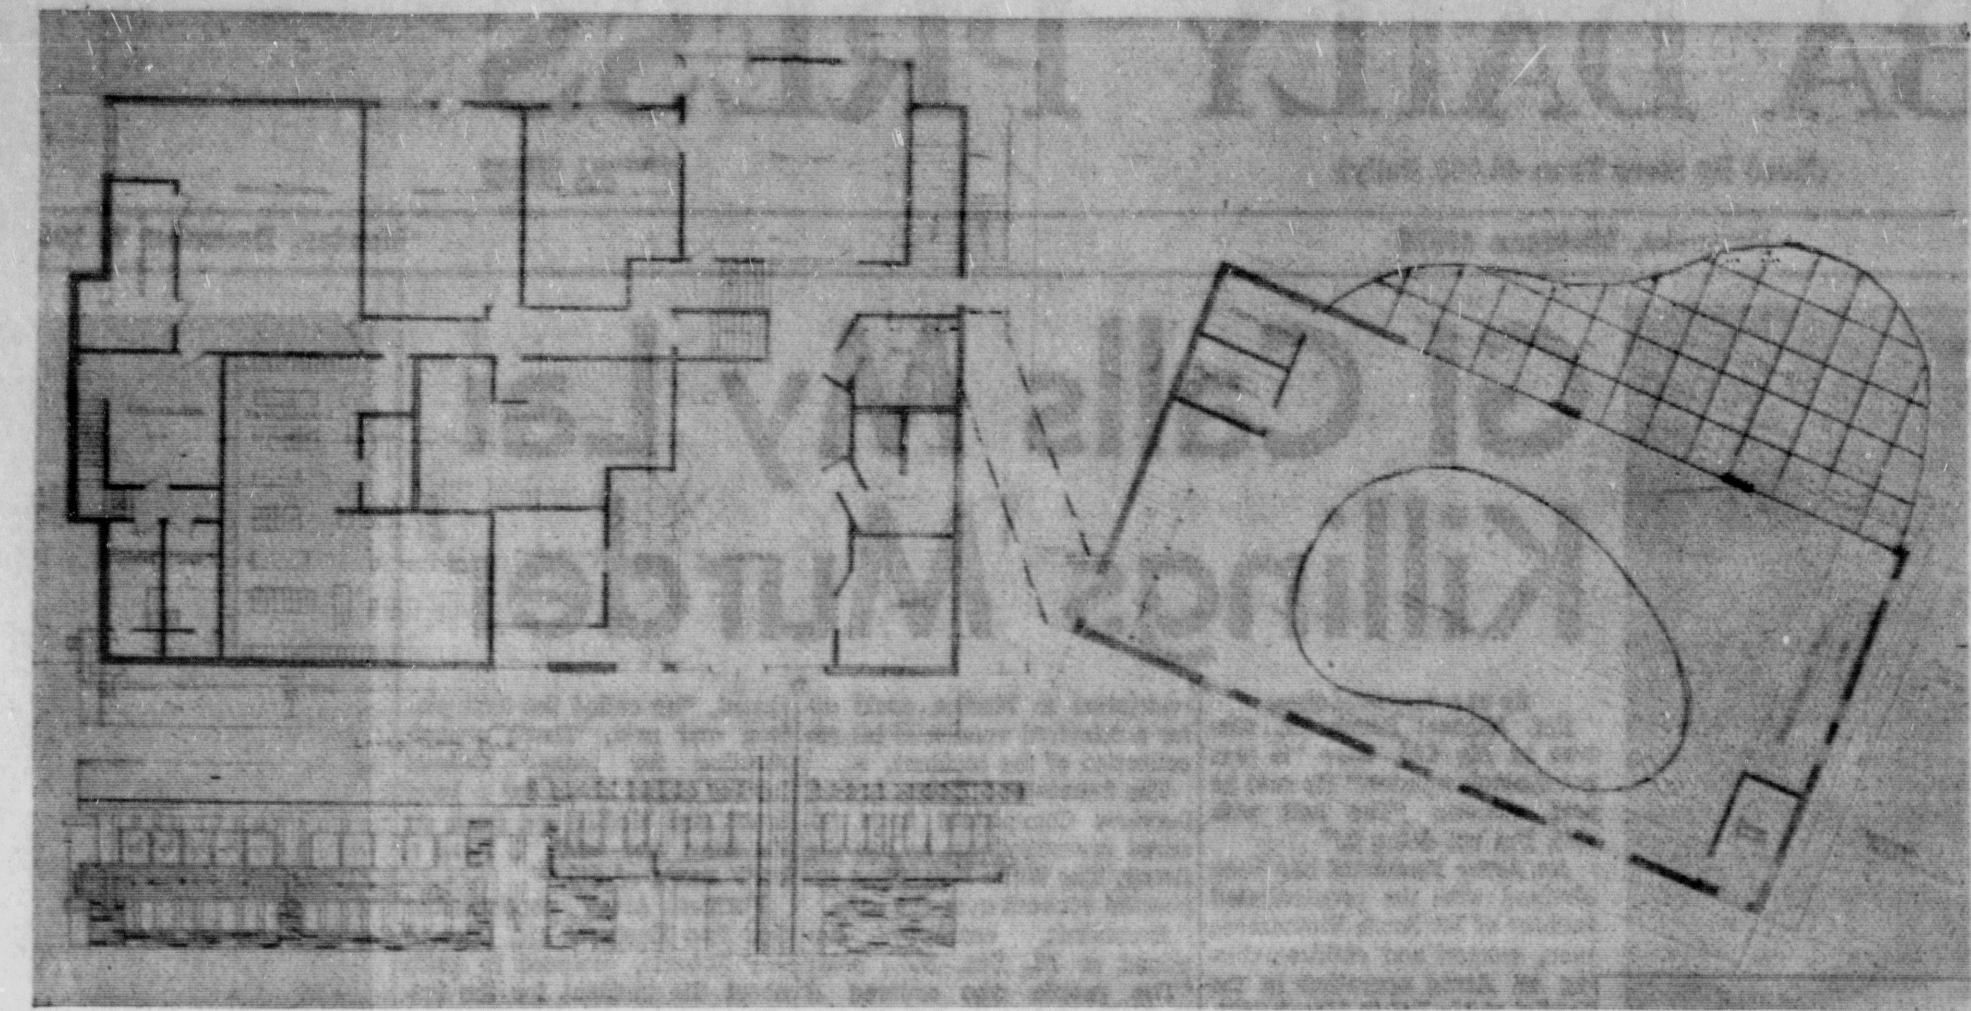

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate seems unlikely to tighten its own code of ethics in the wake of its rejection of the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

Sensors show little disposition at this time to go beyond the limited disclosures rules adopted by the Senate last year.

Sen. John J. Williams, the Delaware Republican known as the Senate ethics watchdog, said in an interview that while he thinks the present Senate disclosure rules need tightening, he has heard no discussion by his colleagues of taking action in the wake of the Haynsworth case.

Jordan voted against a public disclosure proposal last year, as did Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., the chairman, and Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, the vice chairman, of the ethics panel. It was rejected 45-40.

The committee apparently wants to give the present limited disclosure system that only went into effect this year a further trial.

the dining, kitchen and bar facilities on the upper level of the building, which also will feature a "Sky Room" dining area angled out from the basic, rectangular structure at the lower right corner. Construction will start this week with completion planned about June 1.

Lake Bluff Clubhouse Construction To Start

Construction on a unique, multi-level clubhouse facility for the new Lake Bluff Country Club on the bluff between Escanaba and Gladstone is expected to get underway this week, according to Roy Ness, designer and developer, with completion planned about June 1.

The building will be located on the bluff overlooking Little Bay de Noc through the cut in the bluff made for the winding access road to the new country club and residential development.

Work on the golf course by E. J. Lockie & Associates of Moline, Ill., progressed on schedule this summer and fall and Dick Drennan, new pro-manager for the club, said that the course is expected to be open for play in late May.

Grass on the first nine holes got a good start this fall and the second nine has been seeded dormant for the spring growing season.

Tunnel To Pool
The clubhouse, which will include bar, dining, kitchen, pro shop, club storage, lobby, locker rooms for men and women, will have about 18,200 square feet of space. It will be connected to the swimming pool building by an underground tunnel.

Seating for about 300 persons is planned in the dining areas during normal operation, but more could be seated in event of a special dinner program, Ness indicated.

Several dining areas are planned to allow partitioning of the building for special functions without disrupting membership activities in other areas.

Deer Cause Two Mishaps

Stray deer were responsible for two auto accidents Sunday in Delta County, resulting in moderate damage to both cars.

According to State Police, an auto driven by Stephen Javurek, 20, 412 S. 18th St., Escanaba, struck and killed a deer at 5:45 p.m. Sunday on County Rd. 557 in Wells Township. He escaped injury.

A second crash was reported to police when Arthur Sellers, 20, Remus, Mich., collided with a deer on U.S. 2 just east of Rapid River at 8:05 p.m. Sunday. Sellers escaped unhurt.

Winter Parking Law In Effect

Wintertime parking regulations are now in effect in the City of Escanaba, Police Chief Richard Frederick pointed out today.

The ordinance puts special parking regulations in effect from Dec. 1 to the end of March and is designed to facilitate snow removal, keep traffic lanes open for emergency vehicles, and assure greater wintertime driving safety.

Now in effect is the regulation limiting parking to one-half hour on any street in the city between the hours of 2 a.m. and 7 a.m.

At all hours day and night parking is restricted to the west side of all streets; and to the north side of all avenues.

Parking on both sides of the street is permitted on Ludington St. and the 100 blocks off Ludington; with exception of S. 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th and 22nd streets.

Switch Off TV Violence, Study Advises Parents

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Nine-ty-five per cent of American homes have at least one TV set, and on the average it puts in a 40-hour weekly work schedule, according to the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence.

Excerpts from the Commission's report, headed by Milton S. Eisenhower, are featured in the December issue of Today's Education, official publication of the National Education Association.

"We are deeply troubled by television's constant portrayal of violence, not in any genuine attempt to focus artistic expression on the human condition, but rather in pandering to a public preoccupation with violence that television has helped to generate," the report says.

An independent analysis of all dramatic television shows presented in 1967 and 1968 showed that:

- Approximately 8 out of 10 dramatic programs contained some violence.
- Two-thirds of crime, western and action-adventure programs contained violence.
- Almost all cartoon shows—which comprise 10 per cent of the total dramatic programs—contained violence, with more than 20 violent episodes per hour.

The task force report went on to analyze the types of crime and violence portrayed on TV and concluded that more than half of all leading characters in the programs inflicted violence. Most of the violent encounters (8 out of 10) are between clearly identified "good guys" and "bad guys." More than half of all leading characters who are violent end up achieving a clearly happy ending. "To this extent, violence is portrayed as a successful means of attaining a desired end," the report noted.

The commission strongly urges the abolishment of non-comic violent cartoons and that the amount of time devoted to crime, western and action-adventure programs containing violence be reduced.

Some responsibility should be shouldered by parents, the Commission stressed. Parental supervision of what is being viewed in home is their right and duty, the report suggests.

In addition, "the viewing public should express to the networks and to the local stations both their disapproval of programs which they find objectionable and their support for programs they like. We believe that most families do not want large doses of violence on television, and thus we urge them to make the weight of their opinion felt," the report states.

Fate Of Half Million At Stake In Lottery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tonight the nation holds its first military draft lottery in 27 years, with the fate of half a million men at stake.

There will be a big board with numbers and dates being posted one by one; a hot glare of lights; standing men and women, intently jotting down every announcement and handing the notes to scurrying messengers. It may look more like a hot day in the stock exchange than a December night at Selective Service.

Draftees Will Know

The numbers and dates will be birthdays—each one telling hundreds, or thousands, of men throughout the country their chances of being drafted in 1970.

Just outside Selective Service's jammed conference room where the drawing takes place will be a glass case in the lobby, containing a souvenir from the past.

It's a large glass jar—some kind of laboratory jar—the one used for the first draft lotteries in World War I and again in World War II.

In the lottery drawings of World War II this jar held 10,000 little capsules containing draft registration numbers.

Lottery Abandoned

Sample capsules are still in the jar; green and pink plastic with metal ends, like little lip-stick tubes, for 1940 and 1941; blue ones for 1942, made entirely of plastic—every bit of metal was being saved by then for war production.

Soon every available man was needed, too, and there was no point to a lottery any more. It was abandoned, even during the low-draft peacetime years, until President Nixon revived the lottery—calling it "random selection"—last Wednesday by signing a law, an executive order, and a proclamation of tonight's drawing.

New Jar Ordered

Even before Nixon signed the lottery into law, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director since 1941, had ordered a new jar.

Death Claims Mrs. Druding

Mrs. Delina Mary Druding, 70, of 523 Michigan Ave., Gladstone died at 10:40 p.m. Sunday at St. Francis Hospital following a lengthy illness.

She was born Aug. 15, 1899 in Stephenson and had lived most of her life in Gladstone. She was a member of All Saints Church. Her husband, Earl, died Aug. 13, 1967.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Wallace (Iona) Brunette of Gladstone; three sons, William of Gladstone, Donald of Beloit and Gary of Kenosha, Wis.; 25 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Arthur Anderson of Gladstone and Mrs. Josie Gunville of Stephenson.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home after 4 p.m. Tuesday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. Wednesday at All Saints Church with Msgr. Matt LaViolette officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

Funeral Held

THREE RIVERS (AP) — Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Dr. Albert J. Phillips, 70, retired executive secretary of the Michigan Education Association. Survivors include a son, Dr. Gordon Phillips, executive secretary of the Methodist Church of Greater Detroit. The senior Phillips, who retired in 1958, died Saturday.

The old one held 10,000 capsules and could easily have served again tonight, when only 366 capsules—one for each day of the year, with an extra day for Leap Year—will be mixed and drawn.

But Hershey, 76 years old and being removed from his post as of next Feb. 16, felt the old jar symbolized the past, a spokesman explains. He wanted a new one.

On Nov. 21, two days after Congress approved Nixon's plan, Selective Service ordered a new, bigger laboratory jar, measuring 16 inches in diameter, with sides two feet high and walls a half inch thick. It lists for $115.

The next day, a colonel drove up to the lab supply dealer in northern New Jersey, to pick it up.

Dates On Stickers

Today, another colonel and a Navy captain planned to write all the dates of the year, from Jan. 1 through Dec. 31, on gummed stickers, roll them up with the writing inside, and pack them into inch-long plastic capsules.

Tonight those capsules will be dumped into the new jar. Somehow—the draft people were still deciding how—the capsules will be "randomized."

They may simply be stirred in the jar, like cooking noodles.

"We have a sort of dairy-type paddle," a spokesman explained.

Hershey is expected to open the lottery ceremony at 8 p.m. and close it around 10 p.m. if it runs on schedule.

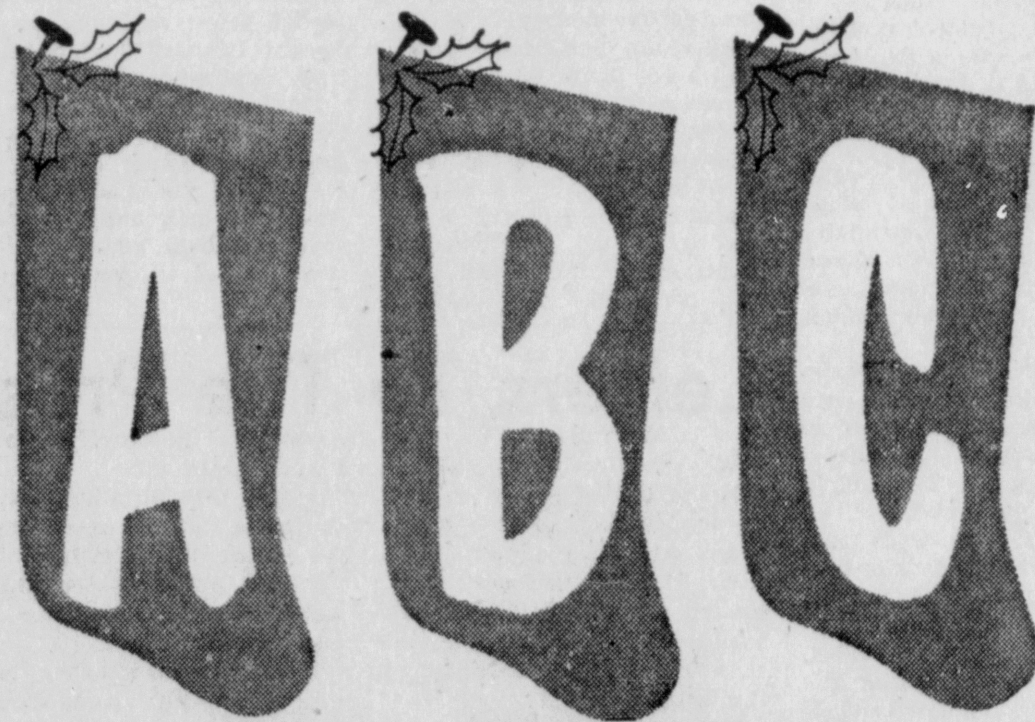

Services Set Wednesday For Ray Sipinen

Funeral services for Ray John Sipinen, 53, 1670 Leverette St., Detroit, who died Saturday morning at the Warren Memorial Hospital in Detroit, will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Anderson Johns Funeral Home in Gladstone.

The Rev. William Verheltz will officiate at the services and burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 4 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

Mr. Sipinen was a graduate of Kingsford High School and he was employed by the U.S. Rubber Co. in Detroit.

Plea For Children

The teaching strike in the Big Bay de Noc school district is two weeks old today and apparently no nearer settlement.

The major stumbling block remains the teaching salary schedule, although there are other elements which have been injected into the dispute. Position of the school board, for example, is that the teachers are engaged in an illegal strike and the board has no duty to negotiate with a group on strike against the law. Teachers, on the other hand, contend that the strike may, in fact, not be illegal because it is an unfair labor practice strike and not an economic strike.

For members of both sides to start arguing the legality of their positions is putting the cart before the horse. The reasoning is as lame as a state representative or senator, for example, voting against a bill because he believes it is unconstitutional.

This is not the responsibility of a legislator. The determination of legality rests with the courts.

Parties in the Big Bay de Noc dispute have been through state mediation, fact finding and an unfair labor practice hearing against the school board without resolution of the differences. Even a citizens committee tried without success to get the groups together.

Certainly, both the school board and the teachers have valid arguments to support their respective positions. But somewhere along the line the groups must recognize that their differences are damaging the major reason for their existence — education of the children in the district.

Totalitarian governments believe the end justifies the means. A democracy teaches that the means also must be justified. And, in this case, although a contract may eventually be reached through the courts or some other method, keeping children out of school for weeks or months cannot be justified by the farthest stretch of the imagination.

The Daily Press commented shortly after the strike that the teachers made a tactical mistake in the timing of the strike and in the issuance of an ultimatum to the Board of Education. The Board of Education, it seems, also has made mistakes since bargaining started back in April.

Those mistakes have been made. No benefit comes from holding them against the other side. Both groups, eventually, are going to have to sweep past mistakes and differences aside, to bury the hatchet, and to sit down and bargain honestly, sincerely and in good faith.

If need be, throw away all the previous offers, statements, mediation, fact finding and unfair labor practice charges and counter charges, eat a little crow and start with a fresh approach. Name new negotiating teams, if necessary.

The important thing is the education of the children in the district. That point is being lost in the dialogue and the sooner it is recognized the better.

William L. Johnson president and general manager of the Upper Michigan-Wisconsin Broadcasting Co., which operates radio station WJMS at Ironwood, was honored at a testimonial dinner recently. He served in a large number of civic and community activities for nearly 40 years and has been Ironwood's city manager (1941-47) and chamber of commerce manager (1947-51). In 1965 Johnson served as chairman of the Gogebic Range Ski Corp. finance drive for the Copper Peak sky flying hill project and received a "Citizen of the Year" award from the chamber of commerce as a result. Earlier he had been chosen "Manager of the Year." Always interested in politics, Johnson ran unsuccessfully for state treasurer in 1952 and also tried to defeat G. Mennen Williams for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1958.

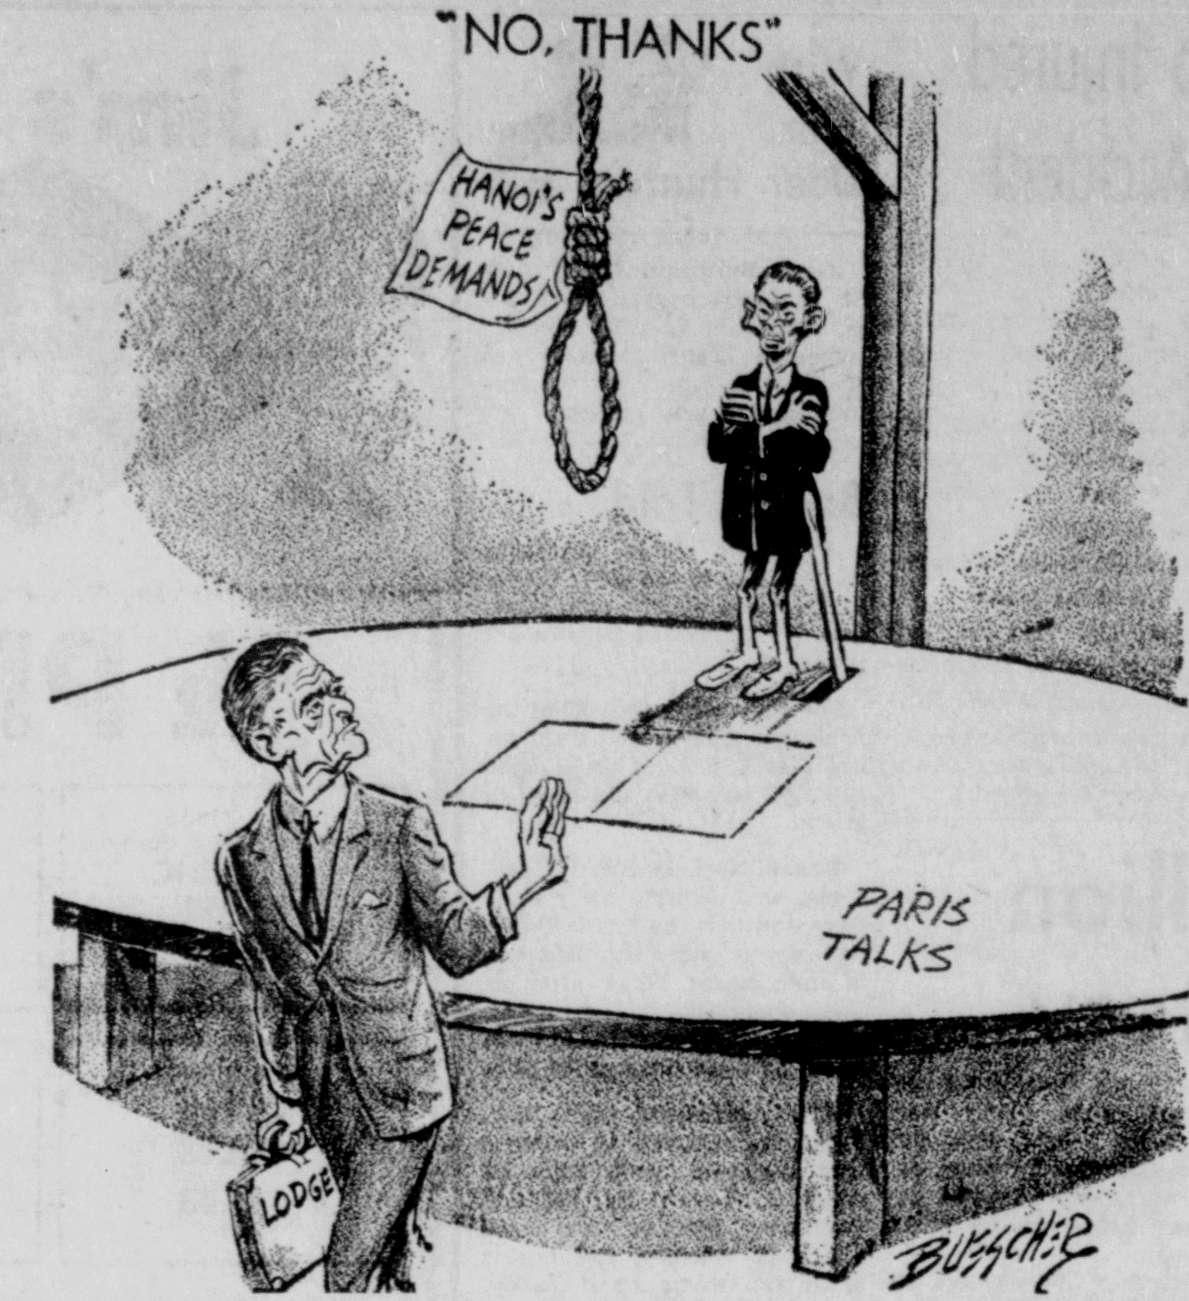

City Manager Kenneth E. Long announced the City of Ironwood had a deficit for fiscal 1969 of $88,518 on the heels of a deficit of $21,925 for the previous year. He said the city is in a period of financial belt-tightening.

Lawrence A. Garfield, a vice president of White Pine Copper Co. since 1960, announced his resignation to offer a consulting engineering service to the mining and construction industries.

George E. Peterson, a mail carrier at Ontonagon since April 22, 1948, and the first mailman when city delivery was established in Ontonagon May 1, 1949, has retired.

Dr. Raymond Smith, president of Michigan Tech University, had a different look at his university at Houghton this month — from the cockpit of an F-101 Voodoo Interceptor of the 62nd Interceptor Squadron based at K. I. Sawyer. Dr. Smith, who received special permission from the Defense Dept. for the flight, was briefed by Maj. Anthony Skur, assistant operations officer of the 62nd, the pilot of the F-101. He was issued a complete set of flight clothing. The flight included a maximum power climb which the Voodoo went from the runway to 30,000 feet within a few minutes. A supersonic run simulating actual air intercept maneuvers also was made. The Air Force said Dr. Smith has shown great interest in the Air Force and has been a supporter of the Reserve Officer Training Corps program at Michigan Tech.

In a surprise move, Gogebic County Board Chairman John LaSota of the Ironwood 3rd district resigned from the board of supervisors and was succeeded as chairman by Wakefield Township Supervisor Axel Jacobson. LaSota gave no explanation for the move, which seemed to catch some of the 15 supervisors by surprise. Jacobson, a 14-year veteran on the board, previously served two terms as chairman. Philip C. Nelson, an exchange repairman for Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was elected by a 9-4 margin to succeed LaSota as a member of the board.

South Vietnam Labor Leaders Would Die

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Tran Quoc Buu is the name. He has just spent two weeks in America trying to tell his story. I caught him on his way to see Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, and I can only hope that he impressed the senator as much as he impressed me.

Back home in Saigon, Tran Quoc Buu is president of the Vietnamese Confederation of Labor, which is like the AFL-CIO in this country. The Vietnamese Confederation of Labor, or the CVT (as it is known from the initials for Confederation Vietnamien du Travail), has some 450,000 members in textile, transport, oil and tenant farm unions.

The union movement in South Vietnam is 20 years old; it has had a long experience in trying to preserve its integrity against the attempts of the Communists to take it over. What Tran Quoc Buu has been endeavoring to tell the Americans, the doves in particular, is that if there is a coalition government in Saigon, with Communists in key positions, the heads of 450,000 South Vietnamese union members will be on the block. The union leaders would be the first to be massacred.

How does Tran Quoc Buu know that?

He has only to review his own life story to get a pretty good idea of the quality of mercy as it is defined by the heirs of Ho Chi Minh.

Tran Quoc Buu was born in central Vietnam, the son of a peasant family. As a young student he enlisted in the Movement for Independence against the French, moving to Hanoi to complete his education. The French arrested him in 1940 and condemned him to 20 years of hard labor on the Poulo Condore penitentiary island in the Pacific. While in jail Tran Quoc Buu met Ton Duc Thang, the present President of North Vietnam, Pham Van Dong, the Prime Minister, Pahn Hung, the Vice President Minister, and Le Duan, the First Secretary of the North Vietnamese Communist Party.

After being liberated in 1945 when the Vietnamese patriots drove out the Japanese, Tran Quoc Buu joined the Resistance as political commissar of a couple of regiments. He helped form a united front with the Communists to fight against the returning French.

But, while trying to get along with the Communists, he noticed a disconcerting thing: the leaders of the non-Communist groups in the supposedly united front kept disappearing. Somehow the French had ways of discovering their identity and picking them up. Communist informers were the villains. The young Tran Quoc Buu had to quit the Resistance in order to escape being purged.

"I've been in a coalition with the Communists," so Tran Quoc Buu said through his interpreter, Nguyen van Thang, who is the International Affairs Director of the CVT.

"It's an old story. The Communists begin by caressing you. Then, when they've got you in the front with them, they take you over. Anyone with a 'reactionary' idea — which means anyone with non-Communist opinions — has to be killed. It's not a question of killing the man, it's a question of killing his future influence."

Tran Quoc Buu recalled what had happened in 1954, when the CVT left its offices and part of its cadres in North Vietnam. All the offices were subsequently confiscated by Ho Chi Minh and many of the cadres were either jailed or assassinated.

Rock Music Business Dancing Merry Tune

By WHAYNE EISENMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — The kids who grew up on rock music are adults with jobs now, and instead of just listening, they're also buying, probably to the tune of $500 million a year in records alone.

"Rock is rapidly taking over the music picture," says Marty Ostrow, vice president of Cash Box Magazine, one of the music industry's bibles. Few others in the industry quarrel with the statement.

Last year, record sales boomed through the $1 billion mark and reliable estimates give rock music between 40 and 60 per cent of the market, depending on how one defines rock.

Meanwhile, young, long-haired musicians who once caused conservative parents to snicker at names like "Blood Sweat and Tears," "The Rolling Stones," "Steppenwolf," "Led Zeppelin," and "Jefferson Airplane" pull in thousands of fans willing to pay as much as $8 a ticket for live performances.

And taped — music sales, spurred by the advent of the cassette cartridge, are contributing a growing part of the buoyant rock music business.

Music companies don't like to give exact dollar figures for fear of tipping off the competition.

But Clive Davis, president of Columbia Records, long a leader in the industry, said rock now accounts for 60 per cent of his company's sales, compared with 25 per cent about five years ago.

He said he believed rock accounted for about half of the $1.1 billion industry sales total in 1968.

"Contemporary rock music is

What Americans cannot realize, says Tran Quoc Buu, is the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong Communist addiction to "the atrocity as strategy." He had some horrendous details to report about the Hue massacre. The Communists took over a part of Hue that was inhabited by 30,000 people. They murdered one out of every ten, after first "caressing" the 30,000 by singing a siren song of "come with us for a while and you'll see that you don't need to worry."

Part of the "atrocity as strategy" technique is to use innocent people as a shield in holding villages or pushing an attack against a South Vietnamese stronghold. By pushing the innocent shield ahead of them, the Communists stand to win either way. If the innocent get killed it counts as a propaganda victory for the Communists. If, on the other hand, our side refrains from touching the innocent, the Communists usually win the battle or save the village as a nest for future plotting.

How many Americans have been aware of Tran Quoc Buu's visit? Was he entertained by Senators McGovern and Fulbright? Did he appear on TV? Maybe Spiro Agnew should ask Tran Quoc Buu a question or two during the Vice Presidential visit to Asia.

Opening lead—ace of spades.

This was Board No. 1 of the 128-board match between Italy and North America in 1967. The Italians got off to a flying start when they scored well at both tables to gain 470 points (10 international match points) on the deal.

At the first table, with Murray and Kehela North-South for the American team, the bidding died at three diamonds — although four hearts would have been a reasonable contract.

Perhaps Kehela should not have passed Murray's two heart bid, and possibly Murray should not have passed three diamonds, but they both did. Not only that, but Kehela stumbled twice in the play and wound up going down one in a contract he should have made.

Forquet led the ace and another spade, and Kehela guessed wrong when he played dummy's queen on the second spade lead. After ruffing Garozzo's king, Kehela led a low heart to the king, which Garozzo very cleverly ducked.

The queen of diamonds returned from dummy lost to West's king, and after Forquet returned a heart to Garozzo's ace and got a heart ruff, the defense had four tricks to show for their efforts. Forquet later scored his king of clubs to put the contract down one.

At the second table, with Pabis Tici and D'Alelio North-South for Italy, the bidding went:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1♥	1♠
1NT	Pass	2♦	Pass
2NT	Pass	3♥	Pass

West (Norman Kay, playing with Edgar Kaplan) had a difficult choice of leads and failed to find the trump opening that would have beaten the contract. Instead he led a club. Dummy's queen won the trick and declarer easily made the contract, losing only a spade, a heart and a diamond.

Ex-GI Prefers Hairnet To Trimming Of Hair

Dear Ann Landers: I am dating a swell kid. Joe got out of the service last year and went to work as a dishwasher in a hotel restaurant. It was the only job he could get without a high school diploma.

Last week Joe was promoted to food checker. His boss told him yesterday to either get a haircut, wear a hairnet, or go back to washing dishes. He makes $15 a week more as a checker, so it would be dumb to go back to washing dishes. He refuses to get a haircut because he insists nobody has the right to tamper with his personal freedom. So he chose the hairnet.

The guys he works with call him Josephine and rib him something terrible. It makes me sick to see Joe standing by that check window wearing a silly hairnet. Why are some people so mean? Please tell off the boss in your column. Maybe it will help — Joe's Girl

Dear Girl: The boss isn't mean. Laws set up by Boards of Health require food handlers to wear short hair or put on a hairnet. Tell Joe to stop being so stubborn. If he cuts his hair, one day HE might be a boss.

Dear Ann Landers: I've read letters in your column about fathers, stepfathers, uncles and neighbors who were too "loving" with young girls. But you've never dealt with a problem that has me deeply concerned. It involves our 10-year-old daughter and her 19-year-old brother.

Mattie is crazy about Tony. She crawls all over him, hangs on him, sits on his lap, fools with his hair and follows him from room to room. Tony seems to like it. He calls her his "Baby Doll," and his "Cutie Pie."

When Tony brings girl friends to the house, Mattie gets jealous and behaves like a spoiled brat. He thinks it is "adorable." Some of his girl friends have let him know that his little sister's actions are obnoxious.

My wife says I must not say anything because it might put a dirty slant on a brother-sister love that is "beautiful." I see nothing beautiful about it. We have three other children and they don't behave this way. Please express your views. If I'm wrong I will eat crow. — Trouble in Buffalo

Dear Buff: The attachment you describe is unwholesome and could pose a serious problem later. It would be healthier if that 19-year-old boy considered the adhesive antics of his kid sister annoying instead of adorable.

I discussed your letter with three behavioral specialists. They agreed the coosome twosome should be broken up. Tony should live elsewhere if it can be arranged. The likelihood of a permanent incestuous relationship, (emotional or physical or both) is definitely present.

WHY DELAY?

Why should there be such a delay in getting a vote on such an important issue as the proposed ordinance on air pollution? This is the only way elected officials will know the wishes of the majority of citizens who will be affected by this issue.

The elected officials were not elected to think for us, as is the system in Russia, but to act in the interest of the majority. This can only be done by the democratic system of the ballot box.

I have read with great interest and concern all articles in the Daily Press pertaining to pollution of our air and water.

E. Scheenemans Observe Their 35th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Scheeneman of Ford River Road celebrated the 35th anniversary of their marriage Saturday, Nov. 29 with a reception and dance at the Ford River Townhall.

Present for the celebration was a son and his family, Sgt. and Mrs. LeRoy Scheeneman and son Brian of Kincheloe AFB.

Emil Scheeneman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheeneman and the former Mildred Krause, daughter of Fred Krause Sr. and the late Mrs. Krause were married Nov. 17, 1934 at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Hyde. Attending the couple were Irene Leisner and Ernest Krause.

By HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

We recently moved to an apartment with very little storage space and I was at my wits' end trying to stash away everything.

As we had some large cardboard drums (twenty inches across and twenty-eight inches high) which we had used for packing, I decided to put all of our extra bed linens and seldom-used items into these drums. Then I made circular covers for them.

Now, with a lamp and vase on top, they look lovely...like the round, skirted tables that are so fashionable.

Mrs. D. W. H.

Now that's good thinking, gal. Don't waste a single thing. Everything has a purpose, and we can often find several more purposes if we only use our noggin.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Lightweight, gold-link, decorative chain may be bought at most dime stores.

I found a most useful and attractive way to use it as tie-backs for curtains.

They look beautiful and expensive from both inside and outside the house, yet are very low in cost.

Mrs. D. Vaughn

Dear Heloise:

My eight-and-ten-year-olds invited two friends over for the night. So we had supper picnic-style... baby in the playpen.

We roasted wieners over the playground fireplace with lights out—just like camping out—only the picnic table was inside. There were potato chips, carrot sticks, radishes, cherry tomatoes, pickles—something that everyone liked.

The boys slept before the fire in sleeping bags. It was almost as good as the real thing and so easy for me with baby in the house to have boys over this way.

Letter Of Laughter

To Uncle Oscar and his teenage nephew who warmed their cold sheets by moving arms rapidly and kicking their feet as if running.

I wonder if either of them wear brushed-nylon pajamas? Well, I do. And when I climbed into bed and threw my arms and legs as suggested, I looked like a giant sparkler on the Fourth of July!

Lucky my shade was down. My next door neighbor is a fireman!

Group Could Go Into 'Hole,' Despite Bargain

AUBURN, Calif. (AP) — Officials in Placer County got a bargain: A purchase for $25,000 of a missile site that cost the government $70 million.

Now they're trying to figure out what to do with it.

The site covers 52 acres above ground, over gently rolling hills on the edge of the old Mother Lode gold mining country, and 30 acres of underground caverns which once housed three 160-foot-deep missile silos, working and living quarters for crews and support machinery such as electric power plants.

Protected against anything except a direct nuclear hit, the site housed Titan missiles in the tense period of 1964-66 after the Cuban missile and Berlin Wall crises. It, and others like it, were abandoned as the Air Force developed more Minuteman missiles.

Placer County figured the site could be used for something when the General Services Administration put it up for sale at $25,000—half the appraised value.

One early plan was to use the land for an auto raceway, but a study indicated that wouldn't pay. Recreational uses, such as a park, still are high on the possible list, said Richard Heikka, county planning officer.

Potential underground uses range from a depository for valuable state records to disposal of industrial waste.

"I've been down throughout the whole thing," Heikka said. "You can't imagine the magnitude of it."

One suggestion the state is considering is to use it as an emergency communications center in case of a disaster. The site is about 35 miles northeast of the Capitol in Sacramento.

One problem: Access is by a 60-foot ladder.

Secret Talks On Education Bill Highlight Action

LANSING (AP) — It's back to the bargaining table for 24 Michigan legislators as they resumed private talks on education reform today, with the hope of presenting proposals to the Legislature when it convenes Tuesday after a two-week recess.

The meeting was scheduled at 2:30 p.m. today, with other talks planned Monday night and Tuesday morning.

Subcommittee talks were held over the weekend.

The bipartisan legislators discussed the companion problems of modern school programs and the ways to pay for them.

Under discussion was the Senate's recently passed $1.008 billion school aid bill, plus approval of bills repealing the property tax credit against the income tax and revoking certain exemptions from state sales and use taxes.

Gov. William Milliken said he would not put a price on a school aid bill, but said it would be more than "simple passage of two to three bills."

Milliken also raised the possibility of vetoing a bill if it does not provide both school reforms and adequate revenue programs to meet them.

One of the most controversial aspects of the Senate passed bill, provides for $25 million for aid to nonpublic school.

House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, noted the talks by the 24 legislators last week produced some progress, but full agreement was not reached.

Special aid for culturally disadvantaged schools was a central topic in the discussions.

First Amendment Poll Fools Many

ROYAL OAK (AP)—Congress should not make laws creating or prohibiting religions, curtailing freedom of speech or press or the right of the people to assemble peaceably or petition their government to remedy grievances.

Strange words?

More than half of 200 persons surveyed in suburban Clawson agreed with the statement without recognizing where it came from.

And 55 persons polled by 9th-grader Steven Wright disagreed with the statement, which is, of course, taken from the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

"I was a little surprised," said 14-year-old Steve. "I kind of expected more people to recognize it."

Steve presented the statement without identifying it to the 200 persons polled. He told them he was going to submit it to Congress as a petition and asked if they agreed with it.

Thirty-five persons would not comment one way or the other. Five persons knew they already had these rights. Four of them recognized the statement as coming from the First Amendment.

Steve got the idea from a newspaper article on a similar survey taken in Massachusetts with similar results.

Signing Traveler's Checks Troublesome?

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
GIBRALTAR (AP) — What is there about cashing a traveler's check that unlayers the larceny lurking in the hearts of all men? Why does the hand tremble and the pulse palpitate?

Signing an ordinary bank check, even a dubious, post-dated one, doesn't summon up similar feelings of guilt.

Checks Paid For
You've paid for the traveler's checks: They're perfectly valid and up to date and suitably crisp, just like real money. There is even a picture of justice or Mercury or some classic cat in his skivvies to denote legal tender, and check is spelled cheque to show that the World Bank or the International Monetary Fund or maybe the Indian money changers have been dealt in on the deal.

Yet, here you are in a crowded shop on an alien shore trembling at the mere formality of duplicating your own signature. Bonnie and Clyde on their first job couldn't have been this jumpy.

Attention Diverted
"Great day out, ain't it, Mac?" You say to the sales clerk to divert attention from your quivering hand, realizing too late that it is raining buckets outside and that Mac happens to be a girl.

Her smile is tentative and too quickly withdrawn, a flash of tolerance followed by a lingering glow of suspicion.

Disconcertingly, accusingly, the signature at the top of the check, when you bought it, bears no resemblance to what you have just scrawled at the bottom. You've left out your middle initial, failed to dot the "I" and dangled a nervous curlicue in the wake of the whole miserable effort.

It's hard to make 'em both look alike," you explain with a light hearted laugh, but even that has a counterfeit ring.

If the sales girl is French and weaned on tales of international intrigue, she is by now trying to recall the number of Interpol and to place your face among the placards in the post and telegraph office.

Ready To Panic
If she is miniskirted and British and brought up on a brace of Alex Guinness movies, she is in tears or panic or both.

If she is Spanish, as many of them are in this rocky tourist outcropping, and used to dealing with shady characters from all over, she already is stamping on the foot lever that summons the carabinieri or the grand inquisitors or whoever deals with global riff-raff hereabouts.

By now, the manager is out of the back of the shop and the identity cards are out of the windows of your wallet, spread out under the white, hot glare of a lamp that has materialized somehow from the third-degree room in the second act of "Detective Story." Voila: Your driver's license, your air credit card, your First Communion picture, your Social Security number.

Joke Falls You
"Solid as the rock of Gibraltar," you laugh, trying to establish local identity with your credit references. "Or Alcatraz." That last touch was boldly light-hearted, but no one else is laughing.

When you inadvertently tear the traveler's check in half in trying to follow the perforated line, that really tears it.

At the end of your tether, you take the only decent way out. "You don't, by any chance, accept American dollars, do you?"

Suddenly, the sun is out in a burst of glory all over Gibraltar, all over Spain, all over Great Britain and her flung-out crown colonies.

It's amazing what an innocent feeling hard, cold cash has to it.

Blue Shield Eyes Rate Increases

LANSDING (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross and Blue Shield have asked for rate increases for some 21 per cent of their members to be effective during the second quarter of 1970. Petitions have been filed with the Michigan Insurance Bureau.

Blue Shield asked a 5.3 per cent hike for regular coverage including a new variable fee program. Shield provides medical care coverage.

Blue Cross, which provides hospital coverage, asked for an average 2.4 per cent increase for various types of regular coverage.

Hunter Wounded

IRON RIVER (AP) — Marvin Stebbins, 27, of Sidnaw was reported in fair condition Sunday after he was accidentally shot in the back by a deer hunting companion in Iron River Township, Iron County. Sheriff's deputies said a friend, Joseph Provost, 41, also of Sidnaw, was cleaning a rifle in a cottage when it fired, the bullet striking Stebbins.

Quits Post

DETROIT (AP) — Gene Gedman, a former professional football player and Detroit pension bureau administrator, has quit his city post.

Gedman, who played for the Detroit Lions in 1958 before an injury sidelined him, said he had received from outside the city "attractive offers outside of the city service." His city job paid $18,442 a year.

Gedman's appointment stirred controversy when he was appointed by City Controller Bernard Klein. His appointment was resented by some of the career civil servants within the bureau.

Ore Shipping May Not Reach 7 Million Goal

The Chicago & North Western Railway, looking toward a 7 million tons ore shipping goal for 1969, may have to lower its sights and settle for just the best year on record.

Paul Schilling, C&NW assistant ore superintendent, reports that ore tonnage moved through Escanaba in November set another monthly record of better than one million tons—but there's a two-day shut-down coming up that will reduce the tonnage for December.

"We have to change a short conveyor belt from the surge bin and we will be shut down from 8 a.m. Tuesday to 8 a.m. Thursday," Schilling said. "This is not an emergency. It had to be planned for and done when the equipment arrived."

The shut-down, however, will cut into the ore tonnage total for the year, which now stands, according to Schilling's best estimate, at under 7 million tons.

Set New Record

"If we get a big break in the weather we might still reach 7 million tons before the shipping ends a few days before Christmas — but it looks less and less like it all the time," he said.

The total for the year, said Schilling, is expected to go to about 6 and three-quarter million tons, which will be above the present record 6,603,474 tons set by the North Western here in 1966.

November's ore shipment totaled 1,093,015 tons compared to 556,469 tons for the same month a year ago. This brought the tonnage to date to 6,220,012 compared to 5,761,396 a year ago.

The 1968 total for the North Western at Escanaba was 6,223,762 tons.

Legalization Of Drugs Opposed By Milliken

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken, who estimates more than 650 persons may attend his conference on drug abuse Dec. 8, says he is "unalterably opposed" to the legalization of marijuana or other drugs.

Milliken made the remark on the "governor's report" program at station WKAR, East Lansing.

The governor said he recently visited a home for drug addicts in the Detroit area and that every one of those he talked to blamed marijuana as the starting point.

Milliken said that "while it may be medically shown that marijuana itself is not addictive, in many, many instances as proven by the comments I receive, marijuana was the starting point for this kind of ultimate abuse."

The governor said he hopes "specific recommendations" will come out of the conference to be held in Lansing. Drug experts from throughout the United States have been invited.

5 Escape Injury In Plane Mishap

HARRISON (AP)—A pilot and his four passengers escaped injury Sunday when a twin-engine plane crashed into a mud bank while attempting an emergency landing at Harrison Airport.

The pilot, William Colvin, 41, of Owosso, said he was forced to make the landing when he was blinded by snow during a heavy storm at Clare.

He was flying his son, Rick, 17, and two other students back to Northern Michigan University at Marquette.

Colvin estimated damage to his plane at $15,000.

On Friday, another pilot suffered minor injuries during a landing accident at Harrison.

Hunter Safe

ACME (AP) — A four-hour search for a youthful deer hunter ended Saturday night when he was found safe by another hunter. Deputies of the Grand Traverse County sheriff's office and a Coast Guard helicopter from Traverse City had joined in the search for Leon Bacon, 13, who became separated from his father while they were hunting.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

'Greener Pastures' Bring State Salaries To Review

By JOHN TEARE

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's labor mediators get top dollar, but for many of the state's 46,000 Civil Service employees the grass is greener in other pastures.

The mediators have benefited through the union of a giant industrial complex and a sophisticated labor force.

Only the federal government tops the $18,000-$21,000 salaries that Michigan offers its mediators in Civil Service Grade 14.

As a result, the State Civil Service Commission must sit down Friday in Detroit with Franklin K. DeWald, Department director, to decide what to do about a proposed $45-million increase in Civil Service pay.

The state's Civil Service payroll is $360 million a year now. A tax-supported retirement fund amounts to about $405 million more.

Most of the proposed increases, recommended by a committee of state departmental executives and union leaders, are earmarked for some 40,000 employees in Grades Four through Eight who earn between $5,300 and $9,145 a year. They would amount to 12 per cent, while others would range down from 11 to 6 per cent in the top grades.

Turnover Is High

The result of a three-month study asked by the commission, the proposals are based on recognition of a competitive labor market that has contributed to a turnover rate of 16.4 per cent in state departments last year. In some departments the rate rose to 23 per cent.

A relentlessly increasing cost of living also influenced the proposal. The federal price index rose 5.5 per cent this year, and more than 4 per cent last year.

For a heavy equipment operator with three years' experience on a snowplow, giant crane or hydraulic earth mover, at least 22 other public employees more than match Michigan's top dollar offer of $3.28 an hour in the Highway Department.

Illinois, the University of Michigan and the city of Dearborn all pay at least $1 more to start and nearly as much at top-scale.

Salaries Higher

A stenographic secretary with enough experience and training to take complex, technical dictation is offered $2.90 an hour by state departments — and $3.55 an hour if she stays four years.

But at least 16 other states, cities and public agencies bid higher, among them Detroit and Ann Arbor, Wayne State University, and several eastern states. And private industry pays stenos about 71 per cent more than Michigan is prepared to now, according to a Civil Service Department survey.

Fifty-five per cent of all of Michigan's privately employed auto mechanics are paid better than the $4-plus in state garages. On that job, Michigan ranks eighth in starting salaries among public employers, fourth in top salaries.

"We can't possibly compete with the Big Three automakers," notes a Civil Service official.

Complex Schedules

The recommendations to the commission were accompanied by this statement from the study committee on pay:

"The existence of more than 115 salary grades, more than two dozen salary schedules and more than 2,400 job classifications creates problems of such enormity and complexity that no staff, no committee and no policy making body can be expected to decide with any assurance that reasonably intelligent salaries are possible."

But the size of the proposals, following substantial increases in the last three years, has created shock waves all through state agencies and suggests the commission will scale down any increases by substantial margins.

Following a public hearing last week, the commission met with Gov. William Milliken, who backed up the opposition registered by several of his department directors.

Milliken Negative

"My reaction is very negative," Milliken said. "Increases anywhere near this would create a very serious problem," he said, on state operating budgets, other governments and Michigan's own economy.

He pointed out that state employees got wage boosts of 6.9 per cent, 6.5 per cent and 6 per cent in the last three years.

The proposed increase, averaging 11.7 per cent, "is not clearly related to the rates of the past three years," Milliken said.

Commission member Richard L. Milliman noted a 50 per cent increase in state pay over the last decade has offset a 27 per cent increase in the cost of living index. "My pay hasn't gone up that much," he said.

But John W. Visser, president of the 18,400-member Michigan State Employees Association, contends, "State employees are victims of inflation, not the causes of it."

"Mr. Milliken conveniently forgets to mention that state employees started at a much lower base than most workers, particularly in manufacturing," Visser said.

660 Road Deaths; One Near L'Anse

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents over the four-day Thanksgiving holiday claimed fewer lives this year than in 1968, when a record 764 persons were killed.

The total for 1969 stood at 660 today.

The National Safety Council had estimated that 700 to 800 persons might die in traffic during the period from 6 p.m. local time Wednesday to midnight Sunday. The council formerly considered Thanksgiving a stay-at-home holiday, but issued a Thanksgiving estimate for the first time this year.

The traffic toll included 26 from Michigan with a Merrill, Wis., woman, Christine Jaeger, 34, being killed near L'Anse.

The worst multiple accident was on a fog-blanketed section of the New Jersey Turnpike Saturday when six persons were killed and 19 others injured in a succession of crashes that involved 10 cars and six trucks.

Five persons died Thursday in a fiery collision 33 miles west of Richmond, Va.

Howard Williams of Brent, Ala., who lost a wife and only child in a Thanksgiving traffic accident eight years ago, suffered a similar tragedy Saturday when his wife and only child were killed in an auto crash.

Deer Gunfire Toll Is Seven

By The Associated Press

The 1969 Michigan gun deer hunting season, which ended Sunday, claimed the lives of seven hunters in accidental shootings.

In addition, State Police said at least 38 hunters suffered gunshot injuries during the two-week season, while nine men died of heart attacks while hunting.

The latest victim was Roger Mickols, 15, of Montague. Oceana County sheriff's deputies said he was hunting with a 16-year-old companion when the companion's gun discharged. Authorities said the youth apparently was walking ahead of Mickols with the gun over his shoulder.

Detroit Scene Of $20 Million Real Estate Sale

DETROIT (AP) — The 28-story Buhl building in downtown Detroit and several other pieces of real estate in the metropolitan area were sold today for approximately $20 million, the highest price paid in a real estate deal in the city's history.

The Buhl Land Co., whose president is Lawrence D. Buhl Jr., sold out all of its holdings to a group of lawyers and businessmen headed by attorney Jerry D. Luptak.

Luptak is a partner in the law firm of Evans, Boyer, Luptak & Briggs. The others are Frank H. Boyer and Basil M. "Mickey" Briggs, also partners in the law firm; Arthur E. Chambers, president of the Carbide Corp., of Southgate, and Harold Beznos, vice president of the Beznos Co. of Southfield.

The deal included the 44-year-old Buhl Building, several downtown parking lots, about a dozen other improved real estate parcels in Detroit and the suburbs and a portfolio of securities.

"Our principal objective was to acquire the Buhl Building and the downtown parking lots because of the confidence we have in the resurgence of downtown Detroit," said Luptak.

"We intend to develop the parking sites with major buildings within the next few years."

The Buhl Building, located at Congress and Griswold, has almost 100 per cent occupancy on its 27 business floors.

The previous highest price paid for a Detroit real estate transaction was $17.5 million for the Penobscot Building in 1952.

Cage Rivalries Spice Schedule

By JIM TRETHEWEY

The big game, of course, will find early-season favorites Marquette and Gwin testing their muscles on the latter's court, but renewal of several old rivalries spices action in the Upper Peninsula this week.

Marquette generally has been hailed as the U.P.'s brightest Class A hope ever, while Gwin is seen as one of the top contenders in Class B. Expected to attract a record crowd to the Gwin gym, their clash could be a scoring duel between the Model Towners' Dick Brown and Terry Froberg and the large number of capable point producers in Marquette's lineup.

But around the Peninsula any number of fans are more interested in what's going on in their own backyards.

Up in the Copper Country, for instance, Houghton will send its big, strong outfit against Hancock in a contest which always has all the trim-

Black Bears Open Schedule

Athletic Director Dave Pelletier announced today that the Athletic Program at Big Bay de Noc High School will continue until further development from the State Director of Athletics.

"The current basketball schedule has a starting date and a closing date," Pelletier said. "We have already lost three weeks from this allotted time. I feel that if our athletes are to have an opportunity to compete for scholarships with the athletes from the surrounding area, they must have the chance to play a complete schedule."

"My decision to continue the Athletic Program does not have any bearing on my feelings toward the teachers' stand," he said. "I still agree 100 per cent with the goals of the Big Bay de Noc Education Association."

The Black Bears will open the season Tuesday night at Nahma against Brimley.

The postponed game with Eben has been rescheduled for Jan. 30, Pelletier said.

Lamonica Beats Namath As Raiders Upend Jets

By The Associated Press

Darryle Lamonica won his individual war with Joe Namath in a crucial battle of air aces, but it was Oakland's raiding party that clearly knocked the wind out of the New York Jet stream.

Lamonica outdueled Jaunt Joe in a matchup of top-flight quarterbacks as Oakland's bullish defenders blunted New York's offense enroute to a roady, 27-14 American Football League victory Sunday.

"I'm not going to deny it, we really beat each other around," said a bloodied Tom Keating, the Raiders' brutish defense tackle.

Then he pointed to the blood on his stained, silver pants and said: "I'm sorry to say it's mine... a little maybe from the center's nose, but most of it was mine. It was rough out there."

Lamonica connected on 19 of 28 passes for 333 yards and two touchdowns. Namath could only manage 10-of-30 for 169 yards and one touchdown, a lackluster performance by one of football's premier quarterbacks.

The victory gave Oakland a half-game lead over Kansas City in the Western Division scramble. New York, by losing,

Undefeated Rams Crush Redskins; Clinch Crown

By The Associated Press

Take it from Sonny Jurgen-son, the Los Angeles Rams have an appropriate nickname.

The Rams rammed the National Football League's most prolific passer all over the place — while Roman Gabriel let loose with a sizzling offensive show — in a 24-13 victory over Washington Sunday that wrapped up the Coastal Division championship for the unbeaten terrors of the West Coast.

It was Los Angeles' 11th straight victory — the first time an NFL team has strung that many together in a single season since Cleveland did it in 1953. And, it continued the Rams' hopes of becoming the first team to complete an unbeaten campaign since the Chicago Bears of 1942, when the full season was only 11 games.

Meanwhile, Bill Nelson's pinpoint passing spirited Cleveland 90 yards in the fading minutes for a 28-24 victory over Chicago — giving the Browns the Century Division title.

Los Angeles will play Minnesota — which sewed up the Central Division championship with a Thanksgiving Day conquest of Detroit — for the Western Conference title Dec. 27. There will be a preview of that pulverizing showdown next Sunday, when the Vikings travel to LA.

Cleveland will take on either Dallas, 8-2-1, or Washington, 5-4-2, for the Eastern Conference title Dec. 28. Although the Redskins' loss Sunday virtually killed their Capitol Division hopes, they still have a slim mathematical chance of overtaking Dallas.

In other games Sunday, Baltimore edged Atlanta 13-6, St. Louis ripped Pittsburgh 47-10, Green Bay checked New York 20-10 and New Orleans beat Philadelphia 26-17. San Francisco, Dallas, Minnesota and Detroit were idle.

Gabriel fired two touchdown passes — one yard to Bob Klein in the second quarter and three yards to Billy Truax in the final quarter — and Willie Ellison ran six yards for a score, while the Rams' awesome defense threw Jurgen-son into a tizzy.

Sonny, who lead the league in aerial yardage going into the game, was held to less than 50 yards net gain in passing during the first three periods, was intercepted twice and dumped for losses six times. He finished with 206 yards on 21 of 39 completions.

Peninsula Grid Stars Honored

Tom Pfotenbauer of Gladstone High School, the 1969 Lineman of the Year in the Upper Peninsula, heads a list of six grid stars from the U.P. who were named on the Detroit Free Press' All-State football team for 1969.

Joining Pfotenbauer, who was named on Class B first team were Bob Theuerkauf of Menominee, Class B first team; Joe Pertile of Ironwood, the Back of the Year in the U.P., Class B second team; Randy Powers and John Brown of St. Ignace, Class C first team; and Martin Ledy of DeTour, Class D first team.

Peninsula players receiving honorable mention on the team were Dan Young of Holy Name, Gary Enstrom of Menominee, Jerry Bebo of Stephenson, Bruce Campbell of Soo, Mark Sundstrom of Soo, Gary Goodman of Gladstone, Roland Hautala of Hancock, Kim Riedy of Powers, Ray Bracy of Norway and Mike Bertucci of Ishpeming.

Marquette Nips Green Bay, 4-3

MARQUETTE — The Marquette Iron Rangers made it three in a row Saturday night by turning back the Green Bay Bobcats, 4-3, in a hard-fought United States Hockey League game at the Palestra before a capacity house.

The Iron Rangers beat Mike Curran, Green Bay's talented netminder, three times on breakaways with Bill Ostwald, Austin (Aussie) O'Neill and Steve Sopher turning the trick.

John Harpell, a former Iron Ranger, got one back for Green Bay but O'Neill tallied his second goal of the night in the second period for a 4-1 Marquette bulge.

Scoring wasn't the only thing interesting about the game. A full-scale uprising erupted in the middle stanza as Curran took on Bob Caster of Marquette. Before the ice shavings had settled, every player on both teams were on the ice in front of the Marquette bench.

After a lengthy delay, Caster and Gordy Yewman drew game misconducts and were banished from the ice along with Coach Leonard (Oakie) Brumm of the Iron Rangers. Brumm and Yewman had a stick duel during the melee. Curran drew a five-minute fighting penalty which was served by another player.

Green Bay showed great poise in the final session as they peppered Brian Lunney with 20 shots, two getting past him off Gerry (Fuzzy) Frenette's stick. Marquette managed only five shots at Curran during the last 20 minutes as they tried to go without their coach.

The next Iron Ranger outing will be Friday night against the Soo Canadians who share the lead with Marquette. Both sport 3-1 records.

Tiger Pitcher Mike Kilkenny had a 7-3 record in night games in 1969.

Oakland Edges Red Wings 1-0

By The Associated Press

Goalie Roger Crozier gave Detroit Red Wings a period to adjust.

But the Wings, who have played four games in five days, never really got adjusted — period.

Crozier was brilliant in the nets all night, but with only 5:16 left in the game Gary Jarrett flipped a shot past him to give the Oakland Seals a 1-0 National Hockey League victory Sunday night.

It was the first time the Wings had been shut out at Olympia Stadium since last Feb. 1 when they lost to St. Louis 2-0. Sunday's loss snapped Detroit's win streak at two and its non-loss string at three.

"They were going 90 miles per hour and we weren't ready to start," said Red Wing Manager Sid Abel, referring to the Seals' 14 shots on goal in the opening period to only five for the Wings.

"Crozier did a fabulous job. You couldn't ask for better goaltending from him," he added. "But their goalie was pretty good too."

Oakland's Gary Smith, although he didn't have to work much that first stanza, turned away 31 shots the next two periods to gain the shutout. Crozier finished with 31 saves.

The 12,810 fans were nearly lulled by the scoring drought until Jarrett's tally at 14:44 of the final period. After Crozier made a fine save during a big scramble in front of the net, Ted Hampson picked up the rebound and passed it to Gerry Elman. Elman shoved it to Jarrett, a former Red Wing, who flipped it past the still sprawled Crozier.

Two fights provided some excitement to take up the slack during the scoreless 54 minutes. In the second period, Detroit rookie Garry Monahan got in a

Horn Leads Packers Over Giants, 20-10

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — The Green Bay Packers, with two touchdowns passes from Don Horn and a sparkling 27 yard scoring run from Travis Williams, broke their three game losing streak with a 20-10 victory over the New York Giants at county stadium Sunday.

The victory came too late to put the Packers back into any sort of title race in the National Football league, but it did give them a 6-5 record, and some personal retribution for this most disappointing of seasons.

Horn, at last holding Bart Starr's job with some assurance of keeping it, responded by leading the Packers to a 13-10 halftime advantage. He threw two touchdown passes, a swing to Donny Anderson which turned into a 39 yard score when Anderson ran expertly and got a fine block near the goal from John Spill — who had brought the play in from the sideline — and a weird 59 yarder to Carroll Dale just before the half ended.

The pass to Dale was a cloud duster, and Carl Lockhart had it intercepted for the Giants when it came down at the two. But the ball popped up out of his grasp, Lockhart fell down, and Dale caught it and beat Scott Eaton into the end zone for a score with 38 seconds left.

That made the score 13-3, and the Packers lost their chance to make it 14-3 when Horn, who was the holder on place kicks in Starr's absence, fumbled the snap for the extra point. Lusteg took a few futile swipes with his foot, but Horn never provided him with anything to kick, and at last the Giants inundated the play.

That should have provided the Packers with control, but it didn't. The Giants started on their own 25 yard line with 30 seconds left and the Packers in the customary "prevent" defense, and New York scored in three plays: A six yard run by Joe Morrison, a 34 yard sideline pass to Homer Jones — which he caught amid three defenders — and a 35 yard scoring pass to Aaron Thomas, and Francis Tarkenton had pulled the Giants back into the game.

The Packers added to their total in the third quarter, and just as importantly, seemed to have discovered a remedy for Coffey's headlong dashes through the middle of their defense.

Green Bay's points were supplied by Williams, who burst off right tackle, broke a tackle, and then merely outran a giant linebacker, cornerback and safety man into the end zone. The run occurred at the end of a 59 yard march, begun when Gogolak's kick off to start the second half turned out to be an onside kick, and Bob Hyland recovered for the Packers at their 41.

The Packers were all this while using new faces in their line up — Fred Carr instead of Willie Davis at defensive end, and later, Jim Weatherwax at defensive tackle, instead of Rich Moore.

The Giants got back into contention with a 50 yard pass from Tarkenton to Jones which carried to the eight yard line and a penalty on the Packers for defensive holding which put the ball on the three. But then the momentum suddenly switched. Two running plays gained a yard, and on third down, Coffey lost a yard, fumbled, and Robinson recovered for the Packers at the four. With eight minutes to go, Green Bay had the ball — an increasingly valuable piece of merchandise, in view of the 20-10 lead which went with it. The Giants by this time were reduced to desperate measures — including a fourth down and nine yard pass from Green Bay's 44 yard line. But it was incomplete, and with 5:25 to go the Packers got the ball at that point, having only to hang onto it for a while to win.

NMU Frosh Top Norsemen Quint

GLADSTONE — Outsized and outmanned, but certainly not outthusted, the Bay de Noc Community College Norsemen were handed their first loss of the season Saturday night at the Gladstone High School gymnasium when they fell to the Northern Michigan University frosh 102-68.

The Norsemen gave the NMU Frosh a real tussle through the first half, but the visitors stole the show in the second half on the scoring of Claude White, a former Illinois all-stater, and Mike Brumit, a 6 foot 7 inch giant from lower Michigan.

Northern jumped out to an early 21-11 lead, but the Norsemen began chipping away at the lead behind Steve Fisher, Mike Sigfrids and Mark Weber and evened the score at 24-24 at the 7:55 mark of the half on a field goal by Fisher.

Concordia Rips Hillsdale 27-0

FLINT (AP) — Hillsdale College's dreams of a postseason bowl game vanished Saturday in the wake of a 27-0 shutout by Concordia College in a play-off for a berth in the NAIA.

Unbeaten Concordia, sparked by the passing of Paul Linde and the kicking of Les Perry, posted its 10th straight victory. Hillsdale, which ended the season with a 9-2 mark, got less than 75 yards total offense for the day.

The Cobbers from Moorhead, Minn. won the right to meet Texas A & I Dec. 13 for the NAIA title. The Texas team beat New Mexico Highlands 28 - 23 Saturday in the other semifinal game.

Haskins, Bulls Conquer Lakers

By The Associated Press
Clem "The Gem" Haskins followed up 48 minutes of good shooting with a dandy little touch to keep Chicago's title hopes blazing brightly and continued the crippled Los Angeles Lakers' tailspin.

Haskins scored 29 points during regulation time, then chipped in seven more during an overtime session, to guide the Bulls to a 116-114 victory over the Lakers in the National Basketball Association Sunday night.

It was the fourth victory in five games for the Bulls, who moved to within two games of the Atlanta Braves in the Western Division chase. It was the Lakers' fifth consecutive loss.

In other games, Milwaukee steamed past San Diego 111-99, Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia 115-107 and Phoenix stopped Seattle 116-108.

In the American Basketball Association, New York beat Pittsburgh 106-103, Kentucky topped Carolina 120-115 and Miami slid past Denver 103-98.

Chicago rallied from an 81-77 deficit at the start of the final period to take a 103-99 lead with 1:30 left in regulation time. But a layup by Jerry West, who scored 38 points, and a pair of foul shots by Happy Hairston sent the game into overtime.

But Haskins kept the determined Lakers at bay in the extra session with his shooting.

Bob Love scored 27 points for the Bulls and Walt Wesley contributed 22. Hairston, recently acquired by Los Angeles in a trade with Detroit, had 27 points and 26 rebounds.

Rookie Lew Alcindor scored 23 points, while Milwaukee's tight defense held San Diego scoring ace Elvin Hayes to only 14 points.

The Bucks held only a 50-54 halftime lead, but Alcindor contributed 14 points in a third quarter spurge that guided the Bucks to an insurmountable 84-67 command going into the final quarter.

Greg Smith added 20 points for the Bucks, while Jim Barnett had 18 and Stu Lantz 16 to lead the Rockets.

Cincinnati blew an 18-point lead, then took advantage of a late scoring binge by veteran Oscar Robertson to upend the 76ers, breaking their four-game winning streak.

Robertson scored nine of his 26 points in the final period as the Royals rallied from an 83-81 deficit in the closing minutes of the third period.

Tom Van Arsdale scored the Royals first six points and had 14 in the opening quarter to help his team to a 41-23 lead. The 76ers chopped the margin to 66-55 at halftime before taking their brief lead in the third quarter.

Connie Hawkins scored 15 points in the final period as Phoenix held off a Seattle rally and snapped its seven-game losing streak. Hawkins finished with 26.

The SuperSonics had trimmed an eight-point Sun lead to one point with 1:30 left, but Hawkins then came up with a pair of free throws and Dick Van Arsdale a three-point play to put it away.

John Tresvant led Seattle with 21 points.

In Saturday night's games, Detroit shattered the New York Knicks' record 18-game winning streak 110-98, Boston beat Baltimore 121-106, Philadelphia stopped Milwaukee 129-111, Atlanta coasted past Cincinnati 128-111 and Seattle nipped Phoenix 130-129.

Texas Meets Arkansas In 1969 Season Finale

By The Associated Press
The college football season is just about over except for the bowl games and one important question: Who's No. 1?

Right now it's Texas, which ran its record to 9-0 with a 49-12 Thanksgiving Day carving of Texas A&M. Second-ranked Arkansas also made it 9-0 by trouncing Texas Tech 33-0.

That set up the lone regular game left—next Saturday's between No. 1 and No. 2 at Fayetteville, Ark., a game originally scheduled earlier in the season but moved back at the request of the TV people.

Only six other ranked teams in The Associated Press poll were in action over the long holiday weekend.

Third-rated Penn State, bound for the Orange Bowl, finished 10-0 by drubbing North Carolina 33-8 as Charlie Pittman scored three times. It was the 21st consecutive win for the Nittany Lions and ran their non-losing streak to 29 games.

Before facing Missouri on New Year's Night, the Lions can sit back Saturday, turn on their TV set and watch the Texas-Arkansas battle secure in the knowledge that they'll move up to No. 2 past the loser and possibly to No. 1 if it ends in a tie.

Tennessee, ranked tenth, blended the running Curt Watson and passing of Bobby Scott for a 40-27 triumph over Vanderbilt and the Southeastern Conference crown. The Vols meet Florida in the Gator Bowl.

Twelfth-ranked Auburn walloped Alabama 49-26 and saddled the Crimson Tide with a 6-4 record, its worst since 1958. Pat Sullivan's passing and the running of Wallace Clark, Mickey Zofko and Tommy Lowry offset a 484-yard aerial show by "Bama's Scott Hunter.

Other SEC quarterbacks were in the spotlight, too. Archie Manning threw for two touchdowns and scored two as 14th-ranked Mississippi State turned back Mississippi State 48-22 on Thursday.

John Reeves of 17th-ranked Florida completed 30 passes, 15 to fellow super-soph Carlos Alvarez, in a 35-16 win over Miami, Fla. The pair teamed up for two TDs.

Houston, ranked 18th ripped Florida State 41-13 as halfback Jim Strong pounded over three times.

Elsewhere, Army won its annual war with Navy 27-0 behind Lynn Moore's 206 yards and two TDs.

Oklahoma's Steve Owens, the Heisman Trophy-winner, carried a record 55 times for 261 yards, his best day ever, and two touchdowns as the Sooners edged Oklahoma State 28-27.

Georgia Tech upset Sun Bowl-bound Georgia 6-0 and Arizona State won its first Westrn Athletic Conference championship by defeating Arizona 38-24.

Palmer Notches Win In Tourney

HILTON HEAD, S. C. (AP)—The magnetic smile was back in place, the king was back on the throne and all was right with the world. Arnold Palmer had just won again.

"This was as important to me as winning the National Open or the Masters or anything," the 40-year-old Palmer said after snapping out of a year-long slump Sunday with a three-stroke victory in the Heritage Golf Classic.

Palmer, written off by many as over the hill and never likely to win again after he pulled out of the PGA championship almost four months ago, managed a final 74, three over par, for 283.

That put him one under par for the tournament—the only man to break par on the treacherous little Harbour Town golf links, a 6,655-yard, par 71 layout on this resort island.

He was three strokes in front of Dick Crawford, with a final 74, and Bert Yancey, who closed with a 72. One stroke ahead of veteran Doug Ford, who had one of the two subpar rounds on the final day, a 70. Homero Blancas closed with a 76 for 288.

Jack Nicklaus had a 75 for 289 and announced he was through for the year. He made $3,633, fell short of the $1 million mark and was mathematically eliminated from any possibility of catching Frank Beard in the race for the No. 1 spot on the money-winning list.

Civil Service Pay Hike Disapproved By Gov. Milliken

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William G. Milliken reported a proposed $45 million pay hike for Michigan's 44,000 state civil service employees could have a "very serious effect" on the state's economy.

"If there were anywhere near this increase, it would create a very serious problem, not only in state government, but outside," Milliken said at a morning news conference.

A special civil service commission committee recommended the pay boost, ranging from six to 12 per cent with the bulk of state workers falling in the over-11-per-cent category.

Milliken noted that civil service employees received pay raises of from six to nearly seven per cent in the past three years and said he believed next year's increase should "bear some clear relationship" to that percentage.

The suggested 12 per cent increase, Milliken said, could have an inflationary impact on state spending. "It would have strong bearing on the state's ability to provide services," he said.

In Memoriam

Groleau
In loving memory of our beloved husband, father and grandfather, Wilfred Groleau, who passed away three years ago today, December 1, 1966.
Memories are treasures
No one can steal,
Death is a heartache
Nothing can heal.
Some may forget you,
Now that you're gone,
But we shall remember,
No matter how long.
The shock so severe
To part with one,
We loved so dear.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by his Wife, Children and Grandchildren

Council Of Churches Plans Reorganization

DETROIT (AP)—A dramatic move was launched today to do away with the National Council of Churches, in its present form, and to replace it with a new, broader, more flexible organization of Christian cooperation.

It would become, under the plan, more fully inclusive of all sorts of churches—in an umbrella fashion.

Greater Diversity

But it also would allow for greater diversity and wide-open options in the choice of varied courses of action by independent participants. And it would abandon insistence on majority-determined joint approaches on each front.

In calling for the sweeping overhaul, Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy, the Council's general secretary, said "half measures will not suffice." He said an aim is to expand interdenominational fellowship on a more loose-knit basis.

The surprise proposal, unveiled at the Council's triennial general assembly, its top governing body, came amid rising pressures both within and outside its present structure for major changes in it.

Deep Crisis Noted

"American society in deep crisis demands of Christians far more than their present broken denominational and racial witnes could ever provide," Dr. Espy said in a 50-page report prepared for the gathering.

His proposal was directed particularly at enlisting non-member denominations, including many smaller evangelical groups and three large bodies, Southern Baptists, the Roman Catholic Church and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

Most other major Protestant and Orthodox denominations — 33 of them with a total of about 42 million members—already belong. The Council was formed 20 years ago.

Free Choice Of Members

By providing wider latitude and free choice to members about the degrees to which they take part in various programs, if at all, he said, a new cooperative framework could bring many others into the ecumenical movement.

"They could become a part of the ecumenical whole while re-

Tourism Seen As Long-Term Curse By Some

LANSING (AP) — Northern Michigan's tourist business could be a long-term curse—despite its immediate blessings, says the report of a special health-oriented committee.

The report was compiled by a committee of the Michigan Association for Community Health Services and will be presented to a regional association meeting Dec. 6 at Gaylord.

Association coordinator Chris Meriam says the report shows "rapidly increasing and continuously unchecked environmental health hazards related to air, water and land pollution."

An "enormous influx" of tourists during both summer and winter vacation seasons causes the problem, he says.

Included in the report was a survey of sanitation services for the 28-county area. That showed 25 health sanitarians, two working on a parttime basis, for the area that has a base population of nearly 500,000.

Populating zooms by 1.5 million during tourist seasons, it says, but the region maintains the same environmental health staffs.

The association is a statewide organization of citizens, sponsored by the State Public Health Department and the Michigan Health Officers Association.

Doctor O.K's This Hemorrhoid Treatment For N.J. Couple's Son

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Wharton, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jeffers report: "Our son suffered from hemorrhoids. I asked the doctor about Preparation H and he gave us the O.K. Our son is now fine, thanks to Preparation H."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Janitor Cited For Good Deeds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A janitor who has been working to improve his neighborhood on Detroit's East Side had been named the winner of the $5,000 Lane Bryant Award for distinguished volunteer service.

Bronson "Butch" Gentry will receive the award at a dinner at the State Department Thursday. Former Michigan Gov. George Romney — who is now secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development — will be the guest speaker.

Raphael Malsin, president of Lane Bryant, Inc., will present the award to Gentry. Gentry led a campaign to improve a recreational field and also organized a citizen's vigilance committee to keep order on school buses. He also won a Detroit police-citizen award for contributing to improve police-community relations.

Asks Churches To Take Stand On Conflict

DETROIT (AP)—An Episcopal priest Sunday urged the nation's churches to resist what he described as Vice President Spiro Agnew's attempt to stifle protest against the Vietnam war.

The Rev. Malcolm Boyd, a fellow at Yale University, said the vice president has implied that to protest the war "is to give comfort to the enemy" and in a sense "to engage in a form of treason."

"The church must respond to this implication clearly and fearlessly," he said in a sermon at Central Methodist Church here, prior to the opening of the triennial assembly of the National Council of Churches.

His sermon was the conclusion of one halted by police Nov. 13 when he was arrested at a "Mass for Peace" at the Pentagon.

He said Agnew's implication "overlooks the honest and passionate conviction of many that this war is destroying the very fabric of American life."

Boyd also said Agnew was creating a climate of fear in the nation, reminiscent of the era of the late Sen. Joe McCarthy.

Father Boyd, who faces trial next Jan. 14 with about 150 peace demonstrators, said the vice president "commits a grave disservice to the cause of freedom and democratic process" in deriding war critics.

He said that many church people have come to "give honor to American power instead of God," equating "American righteousness with the righteousness of God." He added:

"It is time for the religious community of America—if there is indeed still time—to remind this nation that it must humble itself under God and in the eyes of its brethren in the world, or else it may truly be damned."

Boyd also said Agnew perhaps is "unaware of the emerging minority fear and anxiety in America. It is only exacerbated by angry attacks."

"A growing number of people in America live in an increased dread of repression, the breakdown of freedoms to dissent and even punishment in the form of possible incarceration in prison camps," he said.
